

About The Director

Janet Lyman has been teaching since 1967. She studied at the Manhattan School of Music in New York, receiving a B.M. and an M.M. Ed. She is Director of Music at Zion Lutheran Church in Clark where she established a brass and string ensemble and conducts the Adult and Youth Choir. Ms. Lyman was string advisor to WYACT/NJPAC Summer Musicals and has conducted the North Jersey Junior Regional Orchestra. In 2003 she started and directed a Hand Bell Choir at Zion Lutheran Church in Clark, NJ.

Her credits include conducting a performance of young musicians at Carnegie Hall as part of the "Salute to Music" program. Ms. Lyman has received many honors and awards including the Lincoln Center Award, Educator of the Year Award by the Citizen's Education Council of Tenafly, the New Jersey Governor's Teacher Recognitions Program, and the New Jersey Commissioner's Symposium for Outstanding Teaching.

Ms. Lyman is on the faculty of The New Jersey Workshop for the Arts in Westfield where she teaches violin, Clarinet, trumpet, saxophone, cello and many other instruments. She has been the conductor of the NJ Workshop Summer Symphony for many years. She also is the conductor of The Wednesday Morning Strings, a traveling group that performs at nursing homes, assisted living facilities and long term in-patient hospitals.

The mission of the New Jersey Workshop for the Arts, "where talent develops and creativity thrives," is to enrich lives by providing opportunities to develop creative talents and encourage a greater appreciation of the arts through both instruction and performance.

Founded by Executive Director Dr. Theodore K. Schlosberg in 1972, the NJWA has been dedicated to helping children, adults and senior citizens explore and participate in the arts throughout the year with private and group instruction, performing ensembles, summer camps and more. The faculty is composed of professional artists, musicians and educators who nurture the talents of each individual student.

NJWA is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization.

Made possible by funds from the Union County Office of Cultural & Heritage Affairs, a partner of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.
